Ravi was a student of Class Four who loved coming to school on time. He followed his daily routine with discipline and kept his bag neat and clean. His teacher, Mrs. Anu Sharma, often said that discipline makes life easy and happy. One morning, Ravi found a beautiful pencil box under his desk. The pencil box was new and had shiny colors. Ravi felt happy but also confused because it was not his pencil box. He thought for a moment and remembered his teacher's words about honesty.

Ravi decided to be honest and disciplined. He took the pencil box to Mrs. Sharma and said that he had found it under his desk. Mrs. Sharma smiled and praised Ravi for telling the truth. Soon, a girl named Anita came to the class looking worried. She said that she had lost her pencil box during recess. Mrs. Sharma gave the pencil box to Anita, and she thanked Ravi with a smile.
